Inclusive service systems

Entrepreneurial smallholder cooperatives, associations and unions

Countries with a higher degree of organised farmers will have faster economic growth, with an improving distribution of income and more democratic relations.

Impact on the poor and minorities

Integrate small scale producers in value chain

Agriterra takes women and young entrepreneurs, small scale producers, into special consideration by facilitating and promoting their integration in high-value-added activities of value chains.

We reach about 621,000 farmers on a yearly basis, about 40% are female farmers. We agree on special budgets for activities with women, have training on female leaderships and select role models.
