Almost 1,000,000 farmers, organised in more than 307 cooperatives
Changes

Before his membership the situation of Erasto wasn’t good. He was only able to harvest seven bags per acre. Life was very tough. He couldn’t pay the school fees for his children, the family income was low, and he barely managed to save his family. He couldn’t buy agricultural inputs either.

Luckily his situation changed. The most significant changes that took place for him are:

1. Increased maize yield from 7 bags to 13-15 bags.
2. Knowing the best maize practice, such as the correct use of fertilizer per acre.
3. He began livestock keeping of different animals, like cows and goats.

He was capable to buy home furniture like radios, television and chairs.

AMBITIONS OF ERASTO

1. To get motorcycles as means of transportation that will enable him to bring agricultural inputs to the farm and carry water and pesticides for spraying crops.
2. To create income to get access to social services such as electricity at his home.
3. To buy modern agricultural equipment.
4. To enlarge more farms after obtaining modern agricultural equipment.

PATENTUS MLIGO
TANZANIA
NJOMBE REGION
VILLAGE: IHALULA

Patentus (65 years) is a cattle breeder with 10 cows and also a maize farmer. He is member of the cooperative IHALULA AMCOS since 2010.

Patentus Mligo became a member of the cooperative because he liked the services that it provided such as inputs supply and a market for the farmers’ produce. He joined IHALULA AMCOS in 2010 when the cooperative started to be active.

Economic situation
The economic situation of Patentus before joining the cooperative was so bad that he could barely provide his family with basic needs such as food, shelter and clothes. Some of his children couldn’t go to school because he didn’t have the money to pay their school fees.

The social situation was very bad, too. Almost all the community members were cultivating with their own poor experience. The production was barely enough for their survival and too low for doing business, which resulted in poverty.

“Due to the several trainings within the cooperative I am now better aware of farming activities.”

Changes
Patentus says that his life has changed a lot. The most significant changes that have taken place for him after becoming a member of the cooperative are:

- Thanks to the several trainings within the cooperative he is aware of farming activities now. He has gained enough knowledge to take good care of the crops in order to get better production.
- He is now able to pay the school fees for his children.
- His income has increase by almost 80%!
- He has also bought more farms for more cultivation activities.

The cooperative was there since 90’s but it was not active. It started to be active in 2010.

AMBITIONS OF PATENTUS
1. To buy a car, for transportation during farming activities.
2. To build a house that is bigger than his current house, which is very small.
3. To own a market for selling inputs supply to other farmers within his village.
SADALA CHACHA

TANZANIA CHALINZE / COAST REGION VILLAGE: VISEZI

Sadala (40 years) is Chairman of CHAURU LTD. He is member of the cooperative since 2004. In 2004, Sadala sent an application letter to become a member of CHAURU LTD. He paid the registration and entrance fees and bought two shares. His social, economic and family situation wasn’t good. The harvest was very low and there was a lack of education and information on the best farming methods. As a member of the cooperative, Sadala hoped to practise agricultural activities in the cooperative. He also hoped to get benefits from the cooperative, such as access to irrigation infrastructure, seeds and pesticides.

AMBITIONS OF SADALA

1. To see the cooperative moving forth towards development
2. Agriculture to create more employment opportunities and source of income to farmers
3. To get capital from farming to start a big business

“Being a member of the cooperative has changed everything in my daily activities.”

ERNEST MLIMBILA

TANZANIA NJOMBE RURAL DISTRICT VILLAGE: LUNGUNYA

Ernest (60 years) is a farmer (Irish potatoes and maize) and also board member of ISOWELU AMCOS LTD, since November 2017.

Ernest Mlimbila became member of ISOWELU AMCOS LTD for three reasons:

1. To obtain inputs on credit
2. To have a common and better market for selling his yields
3. To have a strong voice

Changes

The benefits of membership are:

- Farmers are practising good and modern farming methods.
- Farmers are frequently receiving trainings and advice regarding farming activities from various local and international organisations.

Those changes have increased the income of the farmers as well as their farming knowledge and skills. Finally, they have been ensured the presence of surplus foods.

AMBITIONS OF ERNEST

1. To continue raising income by practising good and modern farming methods
2. To widen his farming activities by using new varieties of potato seeds
3. To obtain more training and advice to improve farming activities

“Before I became member of the cooperative the situation was worse, especially the availability of seeds. Seeds were bought in for a higher price. Also there was no market for selling my yields. The presence of middle men was a very serious problem to me and other farmers.”

Ally Omari lives in a family of 13 in total. His family consists of Ally Omari himself, his two wives, six children and three elder sisters. After having been into contact with a board member and other members of Turiani Cane Outgrowers and with other crop growers of the primary cooperative society limited (TUCOCPRCOS LTD), Ally became a cooperative member.

The main reason for Ally to become a cooperative member was to become more socially active.

Knowledge
Ally participated in the programme and trainings conducted by Mtibwa Outgrowers Association (MOA), which helped him to gain knowledge, skills and techniques on cooperative level regarding the production of canes, such as planting canes, harvesting canes and occupational safety and health of a farmer during cane farming. This led to economic growth and an improvement of Ally’s livelihood.

He used to be a member of Mtibwa Outgrowers Association, but he decided to become a cooperative member of TUCOCPRCOS LTD instead. TUCOCPRCOS had proven to be a strong organisation that conducts harvest issues on time and treats every member equally.

“I became a member of the cooperative to connect with other people and to learn how a cooperative works with its members, but I have also acquired knowledge, skills and techniques in cane farming.”

Changes
As a member of the cooperative Ally has created a suitable environment for growing. Through his efforts, he managed to improve his situation economically, socially and culturally in his community.

The trainings of the cooperative taught him to minimise hazards and maintain safety in his farm.

Ally is satisfied: “Being part of the cooperative, I managed to improve my economic situation compared to years ago. I’ve also learned how to maximise the farm’s profitability.”

The membership has improved Ally’s welfare and even his living standard has changed compared to his situation before TUCOCPRCOS.

The main crop is sugarcane, but they also have other crops. Sugarcane is an important commercial crop in Tanzania.

AMBITIONS OF ALLY OMARI SALEHE
Ally desires to conduct modern agriculture. He would like to expand his farms by obtaining more acres to produce more tonnes of cane. He also wants to buy two tractors that would help him manage his large farms.
Before he became a member, his situation was not good. It was difficult to get agricultural inputs like seeds and fertilisers. Chedy Rashid didn’t find a market for his yield. He had no experience in cultivating other crops than maize and he used poor agricultural tools like a hand hoe.

Changes

The benefits of membership are:

- Using the best farming tools like a tractor, a chopping machine and weed spray.
- Increase the number of farms from 50 acres to 100 acres.
- Building a warehouse to store the yield.

Chedy Rashid Ngumbi explained why he became member of Utolera Amcos:

1. To have better market for his yield.
2. To get education concerning the best practice of cultivating maize and beans.
3. To obtain agricultural input on credit.

AMBITIONS OF CHEDY RASHID

1. Being the largest farmer with 400 acres
2. To obtain more training for better farming activities
3. To cultivate other crops like avocado
4. To build a crop processing factory

Evelina (25 years) is female member of CHAURU LTD since 2019.

Evelina harvested just to have food. She became a member of the cooperative to get benefits and opportunities like access to residential land to build a house or a farm where she can plant cashews and vegetables. Evelina says her income has increased and that she sells her harvest to others now as there is enough food.

AMBITIONS OF EVELINA

1. To become a businesswoman with a big business that sells farm products like paddy and cashews.
2. To open a processing industry.

“Those changes give us different opportunities such as setting up a business and getting better education.”
